

Faith-Based Opportunities

How to engage your faith community in combating human trafficking

1

Encourage your church outreach or missions committee to examine providing funding for after care. Connect with social service agencies providing after care.

2

Donations can be made to:
*United Way of Delaware County
PO Box 319,
Delaware OH 43015*

Funding goes to coalition work in advocacy, prevention, awareness, education and survivor restoration services.

3

Represent your church by being a part of the coalition faith community.

4

Be part of outreach events in the county throughout the year. Register for events at DelawareAHT.org.

5

Report any suspected victims of Human Trafficking by calling:

*National Hotline
888-3737-888*

Give as many details as possible i.e. location, license plate number and description of who is involved.

6

Help with the Guest House, which offers short-term housing for survivors.

- Women: Work with human trafficking survivors after attending the Guest House Volunteer Training program.
- Provide casseroles for 3-5 people stored at the Guest House for rescued survivors.

7

Provide meals at The Well, located in Columbus, the Salvation Army's daytime drop-in center for sexually exploited or trafficked.

Meals are provided by volunteers at 1 PM at The Well every Tuesday. Sign up at:
CentralOhioRescueAndRestore.org

8

Create a dialogue with your newfound knowledge with your friends and family.

9

Add victims and survivors to your prayer group list.

10

Pray for the hearts of the abusers to change. Pray for the victims. Pray for the community to take this issue to heart.

11

Create a "Welcome Home Basket" for survivors moving into their own space.
